The Mint Museum of Art exhibited William Eggleston - Jamaica Botanical in 2006 - 2007, during this period of time several institutions and individuals contacted the museum. They were interested in finding out more about the Jamaica Botanical prints as they had a set of the prints in their collection/ possession and knew very little about them. It became apparent that these prints were rarely exhibited by the institutions that owned them, and that both the public and other institutions were interested in finding out more about these works. Due to the level of interest that this exhibition generated, the Mint Museum became interested in the possibility of creating a traveling exhibition of these works. During the course of researching potential sites and funders for this exhibition, other institutions and individuals who owned Jamaica Botanical came to light, and the 'series' was found not to be a formal series or edition but a project. The paper was identified as Kodak Ektacolor 74 which is very light sensitive, so in addition to specifying climate conditions for displaying Jamaica Botanical, methods of preservation were researched. An exhibition budget, checklist, marketing letter, prospectus, sample press release, educational programs and exhibition loan agreement were created, as well as original condition reports for the prints. It was decided that only those prints that were on display at the Mint Museum would be traveling, as the cost of framing the remaining prints was prohibitive and as some of the remaining prints were in need of minor conservation. An essay was written for the exhibition brochure and image rights secured for inclusion in the brochure and publicity materials.

Bad things happen to good people.

Events not always under our control can often result in our credit scores going down, and sometimes way, way down.

There are consumer protection laws that you can use to remove negative items from your credit report,. Because of a quirk in the law you can, as the author did, remove items that really are yours.

But if you try to go it alone, the credit repair journey can be a nightmare. This book introduces a step-by-step credit repair system, actual documents the author used to settle suits, and legal cases filed in federal courts against major credit bureaus. These are the credit repair secrets they really don't want to you to know, from someone who successfully challenged the credit reporting industry. Contrary to what you may believe, there is a way to improve your credit score substantially, and this book will help you get there. The author was a vice president at Guardian Bank in charge of the collection department and went on to start a collection agency. After selling the agency he became a credit restoration coach. To prove what he knew in theory could in fact be done, he stopped paying everything: repossession, foreclosure, medical bills, student loans, and credit cards. He even filed for bankruptcy. His credit score went from over 800 down to 461. He had it back to 742 in five months. Mr. Mansfield walks you through every step of the credit restoration process. As a bonus, when you purchase the book there's information on how to contact Mr. Mansfield directly! There is no other credit restoration book like this.

This handbook is primarily for the use of persons in the business of importing, manufacturing, and dealing in firearms defined by the National Firearms Act (NFA) or persons intending to go into an NFA firearms business. It should also be helpful to collectors of NFA firearms and other persons having questions about the application of the NFA. This publication is not a law book. Rather, it is intended as a "user friendly" reference book enabling the user to quickly find answers to questions concerning the NFA. Nevertheless, it should also be useful to attorneys seeking basic information about the NFA and how the law has been interpreted by ATF. The book's Table of Contents will be helpful to the user in locating needed information. Although the principal focus of the handbook is the NFA, the book necessarily covers provisions of the Gun Control Act of 1968 and the Arms Export Control Act impacting NFA firearms businesses and collectors.
