What would be the title of the next chapter of your life if someone shares with you the knowledge that Jesus paid it all for you to overcome life's challenges? How about if someone told you that God is working behind the scenes on your behalf and working everything out for your good with encouraging love He has reestablished for you in the name of the sacrifice of His Son? My desire today is to challenge your thinking to come up higher and set down with Jesus a while and learn about Him. God has already prepared for your journey of transformation strategies and information from His Word to overcome everything your adversary has placed in your path. Through life highway, you may not believe this but He believes in you and Christ has qualified you for the victory in Him. When God looks at you, He sees you as a son and a daughter clothed in favor, blessings, and a successful leader of the faith. Take hold of Him today and to those who knew your story and might not believe this, you can look at you now and see what the Lord has done and its marvelous in His sight. About the Author An ordained minister of the Gospel since 2015, Chris has a passion for seeing a transformation over those who have never intimately met the true and faithful eternal author of the Word, King Jesus. Also! See believers who have met Him to rise and operate in their full potential and authority in Christ and as He transforms them with their new identity in Christ by the renewing of their mind, become garden dwellers and rainmakers of the reigning King Jesus. You're Not Going to Believe This... Christian Editing Publishing House

Example in this ebook The entire manuscript of this story was written with the E type-bar of the typewriter tied down; thus making it impossible for that letter to be printed. This was done so that none of that vowel might slip in, accidentally; and many did try to do so! There is a great deal of information as to what Youth can do, if given a chance; and, though it starts out in somewhat of an impersonal vein, there is plenty of thrill, rollicking comedy, love, courtship, marriage, patriotism, sudden tragedy, a determined stand against liquor, and some amusing political aspirations in a small growing town. In writing such a story,—purposely avoiding all words containing the vowel E, there are a great many difficulties. The greatest of these is met in the past tense of verbs, almost all of which end with "—ed." Therefore substitutes must be found; and they are very few. This will cause, at times, a somewhat monotonous use of such words as "said;" for neither "replied," "answered" nor "asked" can be used. Another difficulty comes with the elimination of the common couplet "of course," and its very common connective, "consequently;" which will, unavoidably cause "bumpy spots." The numerals also cause plenty of trouble, for none between six and thirty are available. When introducing young ladies into the story, this is a real barrier; for what young woman wants to have it known that she is over thirty? And this restriction on numbers, of course taboos all mention of dates. Many abbreviations also must be avoided; the most common of all, "Mr." and "Mrs." being particularly troublesome; for those words, if read aloud, plainly indicate the E in their orthography. As the vowel E is used more than five times oftener than any other letter, this story was written, not through any attempt to attain literary merit, but due to a somewhat balky nature, caused by hearing it so constantly claimed that "it can't be done; for you cannot say anything at all without using E, and make smooth continuity, with perfectly grammatical construction—" so 'twas said. Many may think that I simply "drop" the E's, filling the gaps with apostrophes. A perusal of the book will show that this is not so. All words used are complete; are correctly spelled and properly used. This has been accomplished through the use of synonyms; and, by so twisting a sentence around as to avoid ambiguity. The book may prove a valuable aid to school children in English composition. People, as a rule, will not stop to realize what a task such an attempt actually is. As I wrote along, in long-hand at first, a whole army of little E's gathered around my desk, all eagerly expecting to be called upon. But gradually as they saw me writing on and on, without even noticing them, they grew uneasy; and, with excited whisperings amongst themselves, began hopping up and riding on my pen, looking down constantly for a chance to drop off into some word; for all the world like sea-birds perched, watching for a passing fish! But when they saw that I had covered 138 pages of typewriter size paper, they slid off onto the floor, walking sadly away, arm in arm; but shouting back: "You certainly must have a hodge-podge of a yarn there without Us! Why, man! We are in every story ever written, hundreds of thousands of times! This is the first time we ever were shut out!" Pronouns also caused trouble; for such words as he, she, they, them, theirs, her, herself, myself, himself, yourself, etc., could not be utilized. But a particularly annoying obstacle comes when, almost through a long paragraph you can find no words with which to continue that line of thought; hence, as in Solitaire, you are "stuck," and must go way back and start another; which, of course, must perfectly fit the preceding context. To be continue in this ebook

"If you call yourself a Christian, then you should have this book, Got Fruit, in your library. Darren Wilson is brilliant in his discourse on spiritual maturity, lovingly challenging us to be all that we were called out to be for the kingdom of God." —Vernel Samuel, Senior Pastor of Hungry 4 God Church and author of The Jesus Mind It has been said that while growing old is mandatory, growing up is optional. This line has proven itself to be true, seeing that the current landscape of the world is indicative of the saddening fact that there seems to be a lack of growth and productivity running rampant, negatively affecting every area of life. Unfortunately, this dilemma affects both the secular and sacred areas of life simultaneously, and while it is evident that growth and productivity are essential parts of life, very few seem to realize this, and even fewer seem to live it. In Got Fruit, Darren clearly indicates that growth is an indication that maturity is occurring. When maturity is occurring, productivity is evidenced, and fruit will begin to be manifested in the lives of believers to the ultimate glory of God and His kingdom that we are a part of.

God has provided a way for all people, not just scholars, to know that the Bible is the Word of God. John Piper has devoted his life to showing us that the glory of God is object of the soul's happiness. Now, his burden in this book is to demonstrate that this same glory is the ground of the mind's certainty. God's peculiar glory shines through his Word. The Spirit of God enlightens the eyes of our hearts. And in one self-authenticating sight, our minds are sure and our hearts are satisfied. Justified certainty and solid joy meet in the peculiar glory of God.

The Lord's desire is for all believers to be endowed with and demonstrate the power of the Holy Spirit to bear witness to who He is. We are to be His witnesses everywhere, and always. The gifts of the Spirit are like our "toolbox," containing tools given to us to manifest the power of the Holy Spirit, so that the Lord Jesus will be glorified, and people will be touched, ministered to, and transformed, everywhere we go. The Holy Spirit distributes and manifests these gifts as He wills. But as co-workers with Him, we must earnestly desire these gifts and we must learn how to yield, cooperate, and properly release these gifts so that people will be ministered to as He desires, and Jesus will be glorified. Often, because we do not know how to cooperate with the Holy Spirit, we either quench, grieve or even resist His expressions through us. This book is intended to be a simple and easy to use training manual to help believers understand and learn how to flow with the Holy Spirit to release the gifts of the Spirit. The goal is to see believers moving and releasing the gifts of the Spirit regularly, anywhere, and at any time as the Spirit of the Lord moves through them. Excerpt: ...open my understanding, I beseech Thee, and purify my heart, that in the reading of Thy Holy Word, I may be able to discern Thy will and truth, and to embrace Thy gracious promises, that being nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, I may continually grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ; through Him, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen. SIXTEENTH DAY. SUNDAY. "And on the seventh day God ended His work which He had made, and He rested on the seventh day from all His work which He had made, and God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it, because that in it He had rested from all His work."--Gen. ii. 2, 3. "Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy."--Ex. xx. 8. "Six days shall work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you an holy day, a sabbath of rest to the Lord."--Ex. xxxv. 2. "This day is holy unto the Lord."--Nek. viii. 9. Let us remember that this day is not our own, it belongs to God, therefore we must keep it holy. On the other days of the week we may work for ourselves, but this is especially God's day; let us keep it in thought, word, and deed, holy. We must try to keep our thoughts fixed on God, and holy things, keeping worldly business and daily cares out of our minds. As far as possible, it must be a day of rest in which we leave all our weekday cares with God, and try to receive fresh strength and comfort from Him. Our words, too, we must keep holy. Though we cannot be always engaged in religious conversation, we must try to let our words be in all things such as God would approve, and making all more earnest and serious than on other days. Our deeds, too, must be especially...
