Thus, this book is based on both luxuries: knowledge from His side and the radiance of Nur Muhammad. These are the two luxuries that every Muslim should pursue because there is no luxury without these two luxuries. The luxury that fueled the rise of medieval Islamic civilization (9th century to the 12th century) and inspired the rise of the modern Western world. As a result, this book is nothing but a form of gratitude for His knowledge. So, there is no other motivation other than these luxuries. In addition, it is also gratitude for all situations. I believe that there is no evil, La Ilaha Illallah, that there is nothing but His existence. Nothing is free, separate, or independent from His existence: everything takes place within the boundaries of His law. Even man's free will interacts and integrates with the unity of His Law. Therefore, may Allah bless us with an abundance of goodness in all of our situations.
